DENEEN ANSWERS CANDIDATE DUNNE

REPUBLICAN GOVERNOR PUNCTUATES ARGUMENTS OF HIS ASSAILANT.

MANY GREETED PARTY AT DEPOT

Governor and His Party of State Officials Made Very Successful Trip Through This Section Today—Attorney Crabtree Introduced the Speakers.

Governor Charles S. Deneen, with a party composed of several of the other state candidates, arrived in Dixon on their special train on scheduled time, 2:45 p. m., and Governor Deneen as well as the other candidates used up their allotted time and more with their talks, but they finished up far too soon for the interested and large crowd of ladies and representative voters of this vicinity.

On the train with the governor were Secretary of State Doyle, Atty. Gen. Stead, Auditor Jas. S. McCullough and Hon. B. M. Chipperfield. Each of these gentlemen made a short talk, but as the time was limited, owing to the fact that the party was scheduled to make about 20 speeches in as many towns today, they could not spend much time in Dixon.

Good Crowds All Along.

The governor's party was greeted by large and enthusiastic crowds all along the line today, and every meeting held between Dixon and Chicago was a great success. It is very apparent that Gov. Deneen is a great factor in this campaign, and his supporters are rallying around his standard in vast numbers.

The meeting at Rochelle this afternoon was a very successful one, and he and the other candidates addressed a large crowd of voters. The candidates were introduced in Rochelle by Attorney Gardner. In Ashton the crowd was also very large, comparatively speaking.

General Dickison, of the governor's staff, well known in Dixon from his connection with the National Guard encampment here, was on the train with the party. The governor and other candidates were introduced in Dixon in a very able manner by Attorney John B. Crabtree. The governor said in part:

Judge Dunne has been singularly unfortunate in his criticisms of my administration. He seems to lack either the knowledge of the conditions of state government or frankness in stating them.

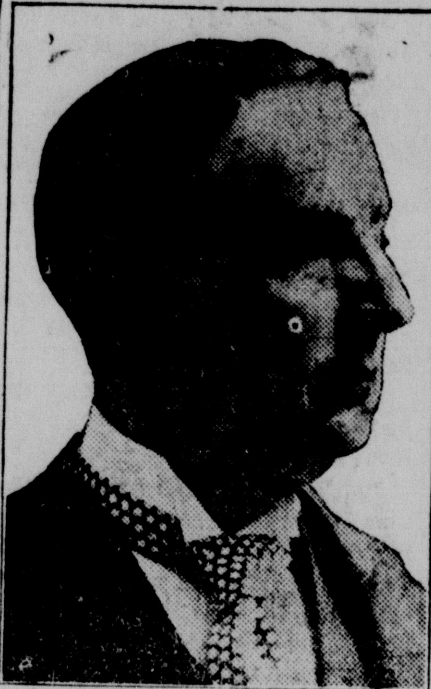

I have replied specifically to his general criticisms and the facts stated have answered and refuted them, but the sincerity of his charges may be tested by the facts of his own administration and the administration of Gov. Altgeld, whom he cited as a model.

He began by charging my administration with being extravagant and by comparing it with Gov. Altgeld's administration 16 years before. If the mere fact that the appropriations of the state government increased in 16 years is a valid reason for defeating me, then increased appropriations for the city of Chicago when he was mayor over those made 16 years before that time could hardly be a valid reason for electing him. The only test which this argument furnishes is that of the good faith of the man who makes it.

The charge that the expenses connected with my office are somewhat larger than Gov. Altgeld's is amply answered by the fact that during his administration he collected about $1,700,000 for interest on funds under his control, while during my administration there has been collected for such interest on public funds, for the recovery of funds from former state officers, insurance companies and other resources, nearly $1,000,000.00.

The judge complains against the present state tax rate. The actual increase is 5 cents on the $100.00 property valuation, and he has intimated that we would lower it. But since I cited the fact that of this "ncrease 1 cent and 2 mills only went into the general fund to take care of permanent improvements aggregating $8,000,000 and that 3 cents and 8 mills was appropriated to double the appropriation made to the common schools of the state, to the state normals and to the state university and for other educational purposes, the judge has maintained a strict silence as to how he would curtail these taxes.

The judge also charged that the state tax burden was heavy in Illinois. Our state tax is $2,629 per capita of population. The tax per capita in New Jersey is $3.341 and in Indiana $3.12. It is unfortunate that the democratic committee cannot spare the judge to go to New Jersey and Indiana to reform their fiscal systems while Gov. Wilson, his candidate for president, and Gov. Marshall, his candidate for vice president, are engaged in making their campaigns. I may add that if they could spare him for another week he could go for the same purpose to California, the home of Gov. Johnson, candidate for vice president on the Bull Moose ticket, where the per capita tax is $6.36.

As a matter of fact the taxes in Illinois are lower than in 70 per cent of the other states.

Mrs. John Cook, living a mile east and a half mile north of Harmon, died yesterday at 7 a. m. of dropsy. She had been suffering with the disease for two or three weeks. Mrs. Petersberger and daughter Amy will go to Chicago tomorrow to visit for two weeks.

Clark Butler of Amboy, a reader of the Telegraph for the past forty years, was here today, taking home with him one of the Telegraph dictionaries.

STARS LOST BIG GAME TO STERLING

HARD LUCK AND HUBER'S WILINESS GIVE VISITORS THE CONTEST.

WEST ENDS ARE THE CHAMPIONS

Ten Innings Necessary to Decide Rubber Between Two Teams.

For one hour and fifty-three minutes yesterday afternoon Dame Fortune gave evidence that she would keep her big mitts out of the inter-city struggle between the Dixon Stars and the Sterling West Ends which was being staged at Athletic park, and then, after having been indifferent for that period of time, the old girl dipped in for just about seven minutes, and during those seven minutes she handed the Sterling team two runs in the tenth inning, thereby giving them the game and the championship by a 6 to 4 score.

As may be evident to the careful reader of the above paragraph, luck turned in favor of the Sterling team in the tenth. Up to that time it had been a great game, with Sterling taking the lead early and the Stars pulling off two rallies that tied the score and kept the biggest crowd of the season right upon its toes. Thus with a 4 to 4 score the two teams went into the extra inning. And Grandma Luck got busy.

Two Hits, a Pass and an Error.

Two hits, a pass and an error did the deed. Flock, first man up, lifted a tall one which Whitebread got under, and with the big one down things looked very encouraging. Lawler Conlon, however, poked a measly scratch single between second and first and then Carp Huber, who had apparently recovered from the wildness that had bothered him earlier in the game, lost his range on the plate and passed Crangle. Beien, the next man up, delivered the blow that killed father and broke a thousand baseball hearts. He slammed one through short and both Hunter and Heft let it go through them into the outfield. Had there two outer gardeners stopped that ball there would have been no score, but they didn't do it and Conlon and Crangle both loped across the rubber. Larkins ended the inning by pulling off a great one-hand catch on O'Hare's long fly and doubling Beien at second. But the damage had been done and Lightner's speed, in the growing darkness, was enough to set the Stars down in rotation in their last chance. Hunter and Larkins both fanning and J. Keenan snoving an easy one to the pitcher, on which he was thrown out at first.

'Twas a Great Game.

Like the two former games between the two teams, it was a great contest to watch. It was anybody's battle until the last man was out. Huber started off like an auto fire truck, fanning three men in the first and allowing but one hit in the first three innings. But the fourth was pathetic for Carp lost the location of the plate and Joey Keenan, his sidekick in the battery work, committed a most serious error of omission when O'Hare, the visitors' second sacker, stole third with that cushion occupied. But the details:

Beien started that inning with a single over third. And then Carp lost control and passed O'Hare and J. McCormick in succession in eight straight balls. While D. Conlon was striking out O'Hare stole third while Beien was reposing peacefully there and Joey ran nearly to the pitcher's box before throwing to Monahan who touched O'Hare out. But Joey's action left the plate unguarded and Beien took advantage of the grand opening and beat it home with the first run of the game. Lightner shoved a nasty one at Monahan which Mike threw too high to first and McCormick scored. Charlie Keenan stopped the scoring by taking care of B. McCormick's hard liner.

Two More in Fifth.

But the visitors copped a couple more in the fifth on two hits and a

ENJOIN HAMILTON COMMISSIONERS

H. G. H. H. AND C. B. KEIGWIN AND FRANK MAU PETITION COURT TODAY.

AGAINST A DRAINAGE DITCH

The Construction of Which They Say Will Cause Them Repeated Damage.

At the petition of H. H., C. B. and H. G. Keigwin and Frank Mau of Hamilton township, Judge Heard today issued a writ of temporary injunction restraining the highway commissioners of that township from constructing a drainage ditch along a road abutting their farm properties.

The petition for the injunction was filed by the defendants through their attorneys, Dixon & Dixon, and Hugh McKeown, P. L. Pope and Harry McDermott, highway commissioners and Burton Reid, pathmaster and road overseer of Hamilton township are named as defendants.

The petitioners set forth in their declaration that the defendants are engaged in digging a ditch along the north and south road between sections 14 and 15, in township 19, and that the completion of the ditch will cut through a natural dike on Green river, thus diverting a large amount of water over their farm lands and causing them great and repeated damage.

The injunction, which is temporary, is granted to restrain the work until the January term of the circuit court, when the question will be settled.

LEE COUNTY SCHOOL EXTOLLED IN BOOK

STATE SUPERINTENDENT COMMENDS SCARBORO SCHOOL IN DISTRICT 140.

County Superintendent L. W. Miller today received copies of two very important publications for distribution among the Lee county schools, both of which deal with subjects being given considerable attention throughout the state. One of these pamphlets is from Acting Fire Marshal F. R. Morgaridge asking the co-operation of teachers on Fire Prevention day, set for Oct. 9. On this day the teachers are asked to arrange special programs to show the necessity of care to prevent conflagrations and containing suggestions for the building of programs, etc.

Shows Lee County school.

The other book, of which many copies are received for placing in every school and library in the county, deals with the standard one room and village schools of the state. It contains suggestions and information for bringing schools to the standard and contains many pictures of standard schools in the county. Among these views is an excellent one of the Scarboro school in District 140, and there is a list of 17 schools in Lee county to which diplomas have been awarded. The last of these is the one in district 89, Bradford township, of which Miss Clara C. Wagner is teacher and August Heinzroth, Henry Weishaar and Mino Gerdes are directors. The teacher and officers of the school brought it to the required mark of standardization without any suggestions or information from the county superintendent, and because of this are entitled to especial commendation.

READY FOR RENEWED DEMAND

New Consignment of Dictionaries to Be Distributed—Popularity of Great Offer Increases. "Battle-scarred heroes."

That phrase once meant unpleasant notoriety to a well meaning man who failed to write what he meant and found through bitter experience what the omission of one letter may mean in a written word.

Could the same thing happen to you?

If so, why? With the New Websterian 1912 Dictionary, Illustrated, at your elbow you can avoid such pitfalls as writing angle when you mean angel. Some person might take offense at being called "a perfect angle."

Think of what a vast difference there is between stationery and stationery, planning and planing, and the hundreds of other comparisons which can be culled from a dictionary. Then clip six consecutive coupons from issues of the Telegraph to avoid mistakes and trouble.

This dictionary is NOT published by the original publishers of Webster's dictionary or by their successors.

The intelligence of the public is but one of the principal elements which have made the distribution of the entire edition of the New Websterian 1912 Dictionary, Illustrated, seemingly a most simple task.

LIVERPOOL GREET ANTI-HOME RULERS

Messrs. Carson, Londonderry and Beresford Receive a Big Demonstration.

THOUSANDS SIGN ULSTER PACT

Unionists and Orangemen Go on Record in the Covenant of Resistance to Movement—District Council of Garriock-on-Suir Bitter.

Liverpool, Sept. 30.—The arrival here of the opposition leaders against home rule was made the scene of one of the most remarkable demonstrations ever witnessed in this city. Throughout the city cheering thousands marched through the streets, loudly acclaiming Sir Edward Carson, Lord Londonderry and Lord Charles Beresford, who took such an active part in the stirring scenes at Belfast.

Orangemen Greet Leaders.

Thousands of Orangemen, dressed in their full regalia and carrying their well-known banners, were at the quay when the steamship bringing the leaders from Belfast landed. When the vessel was nearing shore and the well-known forms of the leaders were recognized on the upper deck, a tremendous din broke loose from the assembled crowds. The bands played, trumpets were blown and cheer upon cheer welcomed the men as they came ashore.

Thousands Sign Ulster Pact.

Belfast, Sept. 30.—As the crowning proof of their determination never to submit to the domination of an Irish parliament, thousands of Ulsterites—unionists and Orangemen—signed the covenant of resistance to home rule, binding them to use all the means that "may be found necessary to defeat the present conspiracy to set up home rule in Ireland."

Sir Edward Carson was the first to sign the covenant. He was followed by many men who have become noted leaders in the campaign against home rule, and these were succeeded by thousands of the rank and file of the Orangemen and unionists in the northern province of Ireland.

District Council Bitter.

London, Sept. 30.—The district council of Garriock-on-Suir passed the following resolution:

"On this day of the signing of that blasphemous nummery, the Ulster covenant, we solemnly declare that we must get home rule and we hereby warn the titled descendants of immoral English ladies and church robbers that rifles are a game at which two can play."

WANTS EVERY TELEGRAPH ISSUED

One of our star subscribers, Mrs. Chas. F. Schick, formerly of Dixon, accompanies a check from Lark, N. D., with a note saying, "Please do not miss sending me a single copy of the Telegraph. I want every one of them."

The other element is the sterling worth and beautiful appearance of the book itself. A restaurant cashier in one of the best patronized lunch rooms in the city testified to this the other day when it was remarked that she had a New Websterian Dictionary lying beside her cash register.

"I was one of the first to get one" she said, "and I want to tell you that that book has started many persons clipping coupons. They are surprised as soon as they see it."

"I am coming around to get another one for my sister and I think I'll just let that one stay here for the present, because I surely wish the Telegraph all the luck in the world."

The describer of dictionaries then thanked the young woman for these few kind words and went on his way thinking how poor his powers of description were as compared to the convincing influence of exhibition of the dictionary itself.

If you don't believe every word of it come to the Dictionary Department and be convinced. You may examine the books all you want without taking one.

We want you to start clipping coupons.

AUTUMN

The first blush of autumn is tingeing the maple. Splashes of crimson and daubs of orange will soon brighten the woods. Here and there a random patch of corn is ruffled by the morning wind. Slopes once luscious and lush, glitter in the hard sunlight, and through the stubble the southbound birds pause to glean for random grains. Fat stacks of amber spot the meadows, clover has lost its purple glow, and hangs a singed and drooping head. The first wedge of wild geese honk through the high heavens, and vagrant companies of teal and mallard are diving into promising ponds. Night falls with swifter wings, and a faint chill, harbinger of frost, tingles in the starlit air. The peach trees are bare and the orchard ground is scarlet with fallen pippins. The leaves drop in a steady flutter. Splashes of dull gray pattern the turf. The harvest moon rides the roof of the world. Logs crackle and spit in the hearth. The barn is fragrant with winter fodder; the crops are sold; the labor of long months has ended. Peace and quiet and rest settle upon the farm.—Herbert Kaufman in Woman's World for October.

LEE COUNTY AT FAIR SCHOOL

WILL BE REPRESENTED BY F. B. HALEY AND ERNEST J. HECKER.

This county will be creditably represented at the Boys' State Fair School of 1912 by F. B. Haley, Amboy, Ill., route 2, and Ernest J. Hecker, Amboy, Ill., as delegates.

The competition for appointment as members of the Boys' State Fair school increases each succeeding year and the large number of boys on the waiting list attests the great popularity of this incomparable school of instruction for boys over 15 and under 20 years of age.

The aim of the school is to offer to a carefully selected body of young men the means for systematic observation and study under the best instructors from the University of Illinois, the best achievement of the most enterprising citizens of Illinois as exemplified in the exhibits at the Illinois State Fair.

Two boys are selected from each county in Illinois, one to represent the country schools and one from the city schools.

REV. ROWE MADE GOOD

REVIVAL PROMISES INTERESTING MEETINGS—ALL INVITED TO COME AND WORSHIP.

Rev. Rowe, the former Ogle countyman, made good at the Church of the Brethren. The revival work began with good interest and promises to be an interesting series of meetings. The attendants at yesterday's services were rewarded with two eloquent discourses. In a fitting address the speaker spoke in the morning on the loyalty to God that should characterize all His children, based on the trial and patience of Job, reaching his climax in the text "When He hath tried me I shall come forth as gold." The evening discourse was a splendid presentation of the fundamentals of Christianity as a called-out-life. We have no hesitation in recommending these services to all men and women as both interesting and profitable. We invite all to come out and worship with us in a spirited and spiritual worship.

WHEN A LAXATIVE IS NEEDED—"CASCARETS"

SALTS, CALOMEL AND CATHARTIC PILLS ARE VIOLENT—THEY ACT ON BOWELS AS PEPPER ACTS IN NOSTRILS.

Take a Cascaret tonight and thoroughly cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out. Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

THE BEAUTIFUL THRONE ROOM SCENE IN "GRAUSTARK," AT THE OPERA HOUSE WEDNESDAY NIGHT, OCTOBER 2ND.

Dementtown

Thanks to the visit of the officials the ave. was the busiest place in Dix on this afternoon.

The average banker doesn't appreciate the fervor with which his clerks may sing "Will They Miss Me When I'm Gone?"

It is said that two books will appear shortly which are expected to attract wide attention. One is to be called "That Person, Theodore" and the other, which will be published serially in the Outlook, will be called

"What I Know About You." The authors are distinguished statesmen who desire to withhold their names at present.

The col. has been asked to define the value of three aces in poker. It depends largely on what the other fellow has.

This is a good time to plant sweet peas if you want to exercise.

Popular Novel.

Chapter I—You are the dearest, darlingest, best husband in this world.

Chapter II—I wonder what she wants.

Chapter III—He gave it to me, without a word. I wonder what he has been up to.

Some Hand.

A certain man residing in Dixon, stayed out much later than his wife liked, and as she knew he would not tell her he had been, she got her little boy to ask the question.

So the next morning at breakfast the youngster asked: "Dad, where wuz you last night?"

"Never your mind where I was."

"But" insisted the boy, "where wuz you?"

"Well, if you must know I was sitting up with a sick friend."

"Did your friend die?"

"Of course he didn't die. Quit asking such fool questions."

"Did you hold his hand?"

"No," snapped the father. "I did not hold his hand. Shut up." And then, with a far away look in his eyes he murmured "I wish to heaven I had. He had four aces."

WHERE TELEPHONE IS HANDY

"Shutins." Confined by Contagious Disease, Find an Easy Method of Communication.

In a circular distributed by a stenographer occurred the phrase "Contagious diseases correspondence promptly attended to."

"Dictation over the telephone by people who have been quarantined on account of scarlet fever or diphtheria, that's what that means," she said. "Many families that are thus shut off from the world do not wish to send out a scrap of paper that can possibly carry contagion. Of course, there are many ways of overcoming the difficulty, and people laid up with disease that is catching have always found a way to let their friends know what ailed them, but it seems to me that the safest and sanest way is to dictate the news over the telephone."

"The mother of two children that had measles suggested that I make that line of work a specialty. She got my address from the doctor and dictated a two-page letter before I had had a chance to look up her references. She was good pay, though. Most quarantined letter writers are. In this long-distance correspondence you have to trust largely to the good faith of your employer. When a stranger wishes me to take a letter I inquire the name of the doctor, and sometimes I take the precaution to telephone him to find out if the patient is seriously financially, but usually I go ahead with the letter and trust to heaven for the money. Heaven I am glad to say, has generally stood by me."

BISHOP ROWE AND ALASKA

Churchman Seemingly Blazing the Path of Progress in Far Northern Territory.

Archdeacon Stuck of Alaska, who has just been making his annual summer cruise in the Pelican, writes from Tanana to the Spirit of Missions that Bishop Rowe has worked a veritable miracle at that mission during his "thawing out" there. The natives have been worked upon and moved to band themselves together against the introduction of liquor among them; they have already had two of their number arrested and fined for drunkenness and disorder, and have given public notice in the local paper that they will testify in court against any man who attempts to sell them liquor. Under the bishop's leadership they have started a large communal garden, and have elected a village council, such as there is at Fort Yukon and Eagle, and a new chief.

Wind and Waves Cause Quakes.

To the average man any movement of the "solid" ground is a striking exception to the normal order of nature. To the seismologist, on the contrary, absolute tranquillity of the earth is the exception, and the quakes—large or small—are the rule. The little quakes are quite as interesting from the scientific point of view as the big ones. There is an international commission for the study of these "microseisms," as they are called. One type of microseism has a period of 30 seconds. This has been traced to friction of the wind upon the earth's surface. In other words, the wind creates waves—vibrations—over an extended land surface, just as it does over the ocean. Another type has a period of from five to ten seconds. This is found to have no relation to the wind or to other meteorological conditions. It is now most plausibly attributed to the impact of waves on the seashore. Great storms on the Atlantic thus set up trains of little earth waves, which are registered at Hamburg, Strasbourg, Vienna—their amplitude decreasing with the distance inland.

He Knew the Signs.

Bob Hull, the champion story teller of Savannah, had occasion lately to take a business trip into Interior Georgia. He took his golf clubs with him, intending to stop on his way back for a match on the famous links at Augusta.

He dropped off the train at his business destination—a small town on a branch road—and carrying his luggage, climbed into an adjacent hack and bade the driver, who was an old negro, take him to the local hotel.

The negro eyed the queer-looking leather bag that his passenger carried with the peculiar looking sticks in it. His curiosity got the best of him finally.

"Boss," he began, "please, sah, excuse me—but mout I ax you a question?"

"Go ahead and ask," said Mr. Hull. "What kind of a lodge is you institutin'?"—Saturday Evening Post.

Ancestors of All the Von Bulows. A monument has just been unveiled in Mecklenburg-Schwerin, bearing the following interesting subscription: "To the Knight, Godefroy von Bulow, authentic ancestor of all the Bulows." The family has given Germany many distinguished sons, including not only the ex-chancellor, but also Hans von Bulow, the pianist, the first husband of Mme. Cosima Wagner, and they all claim to be consins more or less distant.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Only Passable.

"Is the soil about this part of the country pretty good?" asked the summer boarder.

"Well, it ain't good enough to raise a mortgage on," replied the farmer, as he opened a case of canned corn.—Judge.

Not Superstitious, But—

"Yes, we are going to start on our European trip the first week in September, instead of the second."

"What's the reason?"

"Well, my husband's birthday comes on the 13th. He found by looking at a calendar that it would fall on Friday, and he'd rather not be on the ocean that day. He says he's not superstitious, but he'll be dodged if he is going to tempt fate by plunging into a triple expansion hoodoo like that! Don't some men make you tired?"

Does Seem Cold.

"Gosh, this New York society is cold blooded," declared the man who had broken in from the west.

"How now?"

"An overnight visitor at my house fell over a chair and barked his shin. I hear now he has consulted a lawyer as to the liability of a host for accident to a guest."

Retort Courteous.

"This summer resort is deadly dull, but I am amply repaid for my trip."

"As to how?"

"My poodle has gained an ounce and a half."

Defined.

"Pa, what is a pessimist?"

"A pessimist, my son, is a man who firmly believes that a telephone operator takes delight in saying, 'The line's busy,' when, as a matter of fact, it would be less trouble for her to make the connection."

A DEAL IN SAND.

A dapper little man entered the office of a building supplies concern and asked for the manager.

"I am he," said the head of the concern who happened to be present.

"How are you selling your sand?"

"In five car lots we—"

The little man held up his hand.

"I wouldn't require that much," he exclaimed.

"In single cars, it—"

But again the customer raised his hand.

"I wish only enough—"

"If you only wish a wagon load, of course, that's different."

The little man shifted from one foot to the other, then explained:

"I am making a sandpile for my baby to play in, and I only want about a peck. I'll take it with me in this basket."

Well, He Became So.

"Children," asked the visitor who was addressing the school, "how many of you can tell me what it was that Napoleon's soldiers used to call him?"

Nobody answered.

"Think a moment. 'Little—'"

Still nobody spoke up.

"'Little Corp—'"

"A little corpulent!" shouted the children.

INDEFINITE SUPPLY OF FOOD

Philadelphia Chemists Claim to Have Made Discovery That Really Is Revolutionary.

Artificial production of food by merely chemical processes has always been a dream of the scientific man. A recent discovery brings this within the possibilities, provided the chemist is allowed an organic cell to start with. Prof. W. H. Lewis and his wife of Johns Hopkins are reported to have caused cellular substances to grow indefinitely outside of the organisms to which they originally belonged. Dr. Lewis now suggests that this may enable men to "grow meat" on a commercial scale. A commentator says: "What Dr. Lewis and his wife claim to have actually accomplished is this: They have taken pieces of chicken, placed them in a saline solution and grown chicken meat. They have discovered that it is quite possible to cut off some of this chicken meat without hindering further growth, and the process can be repeated indefinitely. They also claim that the process can be applied to any sort of flesh."

TSETSE FLY DEADLY ENEMY

Progress of South Africa Retarded While Its Propagation Is Being Combated.

How great a menace is the tsetse fly to the progress of certain regions of Africa is shown in the report of Sir William H. Manning, governor of Nyasaland. The prevalence of the fly has made it necessary to close many important roads against all forms of animal transport. One of the highways thus closed to animal-drawn vehicles is the road between Blantyre, the chief commercial center of the country, and Zomba, the administrative capital, but twenty-three miles of it, or more than half, has been macadamized, in order that motor vehicles can use it, and work on the remainder is going on rapidly. The ordinary roads of the country are impassable for ox wagons during the rainy season, which extends from November to May. For this reason a great increase of macadamized highways is desirable. Unless it is provided, the newly developed agricultural settlements of the protectorate will suffer greatly.

A 21-Pound Cabbage.

That truck farming is far more profitable than cotton raising is the testimony of C. W. Buchanan, proprietor of a local hotel. In the rear of his hotel Mr. Buchanan has a four-acre farm, which he cultivates as a side line. Last year he planted this ground in cotton, the proceeds of which scarcely equalled the cost of production. This year he planted the entire "patch" in corn, cabbage, turnips, onions and other truck products, as a result of which he is now getting big returns from his effort.

A few days ago Mr. Buchanan gathered from his little farm a cabbage that weighed 21½ pounds, the largest on record so far as is known locally. This monster cabbage has been on exhibition in one of the local business houses and has been the object of no little attention.—Jackson Correspondence Atlanta Constitution.

Raising Babies by Electricity.

Raising babies under the influence of electricity is the unique plan proposed by T. Thorne Baker, an electrical expert connected with the London Daily Mirror. Mr. Baker has made several successful experiments in raising chickens by such a process, and he believes the same principle can be applied to babies.

"No kind of food seems to do some weakly babies any good," says Mr. Baker. "I propose to use an electrically charged cot, in which the baby is put to sleep for about twenty minutes at a time."

Mr. Baker's intended experiment is to place babies near high frequency currents, which would be switched on while the child sleeps in a little bed placed inside a special coil. "The result," he said, "will be that while treatment is in progress the electromagnetic vibrations will pass back and forth right through their bodies."

Society Girl a Poundkeeper.

Acting Health Commissioner of Milwaukee Fred W. Luening has announced the appointment of Miss Leonore H. Cawker, a wealthy woman of the city's most exclusive social set, as city poundkeeper, the appointment to be an emergency one for 90 days and subject to the rulings of the civil service board. Mr. Luening, however, has received assurance that the appointment will be confirmed, there being no applicants for the position.

Miss Cawker has labored for many years in behalf of unfortunate animals that have come to her attention, and has consented to take the position, although its acceptance means a large personal expense to her, the salary being only $50 a month.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Temperament and Temperature.

"You don't avoid hot weather by going away from home."

"No," replied Miss Cayenne, "but it's better to be among strangers where the formalities prevent giving way to the irritations of climate."

Her Preference.

She—Jack tells me all his secrets.

Her Friend—Well, you don't object to that, do you?

THE SOUTH SIDE PARK
Commissioner Martin Gannon is active nowadays in the interests of setting a park for West Dixon. The residents of that portion of our fair city are bound that Dixon buy the Dixon college campus and turn it over to the city for a recreation spot.

Commissioner Gannon, in an interview with a Telegraph reporter, declared that there was only one thing to do, and that now was the time to do it. He stated that it would cost the city not to exceed $20,000 to make the change and put the property into the most desirable condition for use as a city park. He said that as there was no park on the south side of the river, which he decided was not fair, and as the city was growing rapidly and would continue to grow even more rapidly in the future than it has in the past, the time would come when a park on the south side of the river would be an absolute necessity and then there would be no chance of having one, for all the desirable property would have been cut up and built thereon.

The West End residents seem to be in earnest, and will probably present their petition to the city in the very near future, possibly tonight. Of course it will be a problem that, under the commission law, will have to be submitted to the people for an answer.

Probably the only sound argument that will be raised against the park idea is that the expense is too great. Mr. Gannon's answer to that part of the proposition was that park bonds should be issued and the park paid for by future generations, thus relieving the present tax payers and also insuring them a southside park.

COUNCIL MEETS TONIGHT.
Nothing of importance is slated for transaction at the regular meeting of the council this evening.

H. U. Brdwell went to Aurora today.

Mrs. Guffin and son returned to Chicago today after a visit with her sister, Mrs. W. A. Schuler.

William Henry Sawyer was born at Lee Center May 14, 1843, and died in Amboy Sept. 20, 1912, aged 69 years, 4 months, 6 days. In 1862 when he was 19 years of age he entered the service of his country, contracting long serious ailments that never left him all his life. He was in the army hospital for a short time and was then sent home with no expectation of his recovery.

That he so far recovered his health was a matter of surprise to his physicians. His army experience left him with a complication of diseases of the spine, kidneys and stomach, so that he was a constant sufferer all his life. On the 28th of Dec., 1871, he was united in marriage to Miss Emma Lane. He lived at Lee Center for 65 years, removing to Amboy in the spring of 1908. Besides his wife he leaves an aged mother, 92 years of age, who lives in Marion, Ia.; one son, John Sawyer of Dixon and one daughter, Mrs. L. Mer Butler of Lee Center, and one sister, Mrs. Sarah Correll of Marion, Iowa.

Mr. Sawyer enlisted in Co. E, 75th Regiment Illinois Infantry, Aug. 14, 1862; he was mustered into the service at Camp Dement, Dixon, Ill. The regiment remained in camp to be drilled until Sept. 27 and then was ordered South, going at once to the front and engaged in the battle of Perryville where the company lost several killed and many wounded. He remained with the regiment at the front until May 5, 1863, when he was discharged, broken in health and unfit for military duty.

Mr. Sawyer lived his entire life, with the exception of his army experience, in this vicinity and had a wide acquaintance, especially among the older inhabitants and enjoyed the confidence and esteem of all who knew him. He was a kind husband and father.

He has given a life of pain and suffering for his country. Funeral services were held at the home on East Main street at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, conducted by Rev. F. W. Merrell, who spoke on "The Ministry of Affliction." The burial was at Woodside cemetery, where the solemn ritual of the Grand Army was read by the officers of the local Post. Mr. Sawyer was a son of one of the first settlers of Lee county. Cyrenus Sawyer, his father, and uncle Cyrenus Sawyer, came to Lee Center in 1835. They were typical pioneers, active and influential, and did their share in moulding society in the early days in and around Lee Center, and stood firmly for the right.

OBITUARY OF MRS. OSBORN

FUNERAL TUESDAY AT 3 P. M. AT THE HOME OF MRS. GAUL.

Osborn, Jan. 12, 1881 and to them six children were born, five of whom are living: Arthur of Leaf River, Clarence Osborn and Mrs. LeRoy Gaul of Dixon; at home are Wesley and Miss Carrie and her husband. She also leaves a sister and brother in Pennsylvania.

The remains will arrive here at 5:30 this evening on the Illinois Central and the funeral will be held Tuesday at 3 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. LeRoy Gaul, of 1133 Long avenue.

SHOWN IN PANORAMIC VIEW IN LEAKE'S DRUG STORE WINDOW.

A long panoramic picture of C. B. Ankeny's farm near Fairbault, Minn., is hung in the window of the Leake Bros. drug store and is attracting the attention of Mr. Ankeny's many friends here. The picture shows his entire farm of 280 acres and takes in territory about two by three miles. The likeness of the former Dixon man is plainly discernible in the foreground of the picture.

FASHION HINTS FROM BISCHOF - Of Course You'll Need a Tailored Suit

This season you will see many delightfully new and attractive departures in the tailor-mades which will, without doubt, instantly appeal to you.

"FINGER-TIP" LENGTH SUIT COAT
For several seasons past short coat suits have held full sway—but this Fall we enthusiastically welcome back the becoming "finger-tip" length—one which gives the coat graceful lines—the one which becomes any figure. The whole effect of the Fall tailor-mades are long, graceful lines.

Moderated cutaways and flowing collars emphasize the long lines on the fronts of these coats—shirred and belted backs, suggesting the Empire effect, carry out further the dict of fashion—long, slender lines.

The skirts, though plaits are used in many, retain these straight, narrow lines. These plaits are set in and are stitched down to the knees then pressed flat to avoid any flare.

With all of these new features, however, marked simplicity is the keynote of every Bischof tailored model.

You no longer have to study for hours over the material for your tailor-made, then go time and again to the tailor for fittings, and worry about how it will look. You can come to our store and get a perfectly tailored Bischof model, in any of the fashionable materials—try it on and know at once that it is becoming. You are sure to find just what you want.

HAS READ TELEGRAPH IN MANY STATES

Wm. Black, well known among the older residents of Dixon, writes us from Golden City, Mo., to extend the date on his Telegraph over 1913 and says that by so doing we will oblige an "Old Timer" who read the Telegraph when he was in Dixon 61 years ago, and who later read it in Palmyra township and read it there until he moved to Missouri 38 years ago, and has been in many states since that time and has read the Telegraph in every one of them. Special Demonstration and Sale on GREAT MAJESTIC RANGES
Sept. 30 to Oct. 5
ONE WEEK ONLY
SAVE $8.00
ONE WEEK ONLY

As a special inducement during our demonstration week only, with every MAJESTIC RANGE sold (prices always the same) we will give free one handsome set of ware as illustrated here.

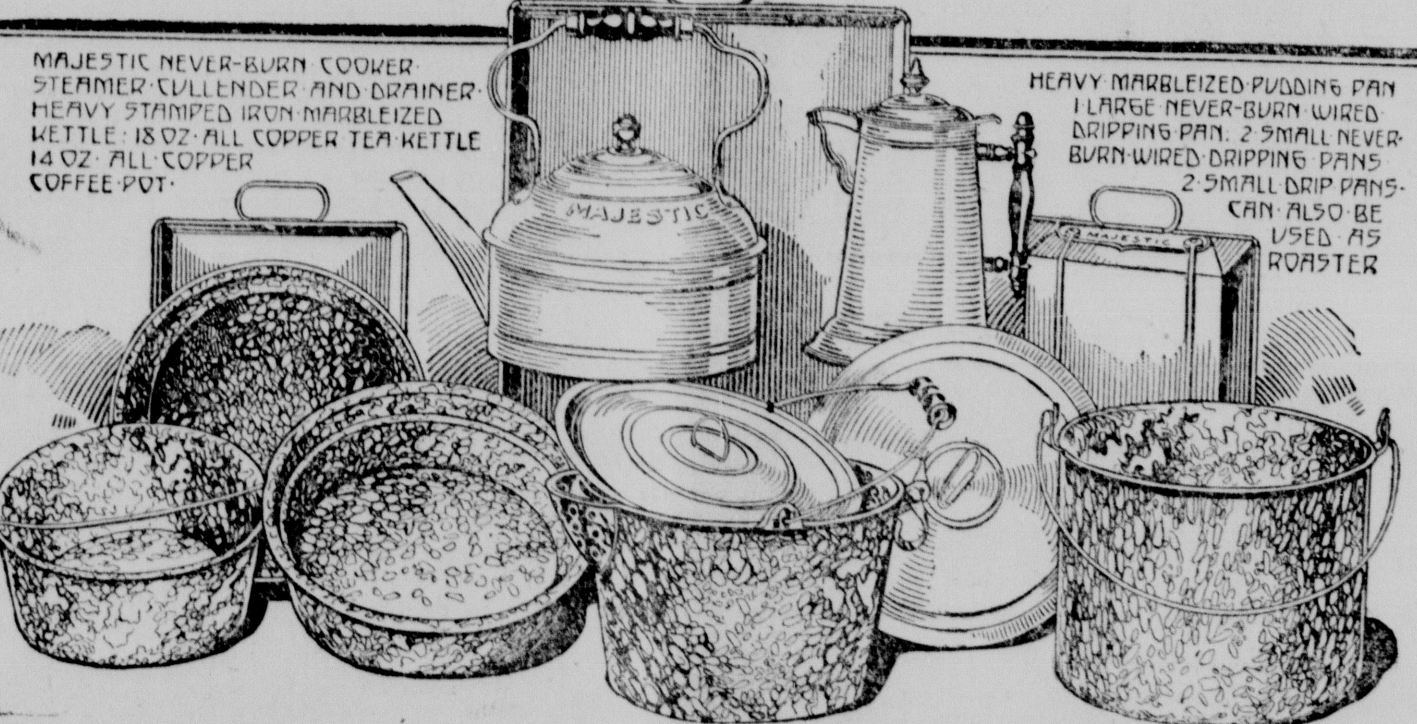

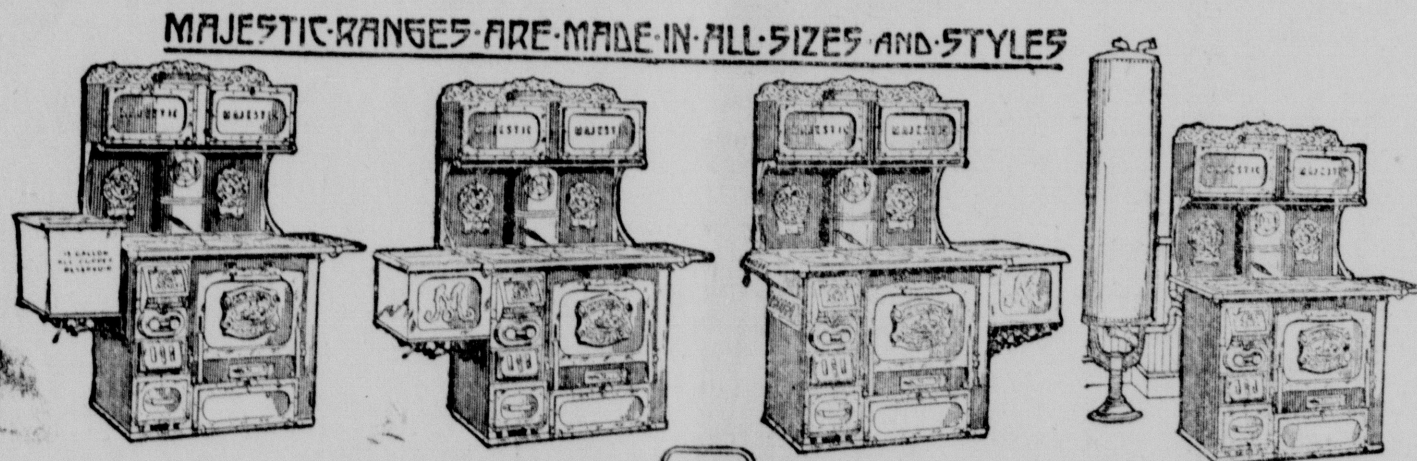

Every piece of this ware is the best of its kind. Not a piece that is not needed in every kitchen. It cannot possibly be bought for less than $8.00. This ware is on exhibition at our store. DON'T FAIL TO SEE IT.

SPECIAL

All during this week a demonstrator direct from the MAJESTIC FACTORY will be glad to show you "ALL ABOUT RANGES"—SHOW YOU why the MAJESTIC is the best range on earth at any price.

COME, IF YOU INTEND TO BUY OR NOT

EDUCATION lies in KNOWING THINGS—KNOW why the oven of a range is heated—KNOW how the water is heated—HOW the top is heated—WHY the MAJESTIC uses so little fuel—KNOW how a range is made inside and outside. This education may serve you in the future. DON'T OVERLOOK a chance to KNOW THINGS shown by one who knows COME

Which Shall it be?

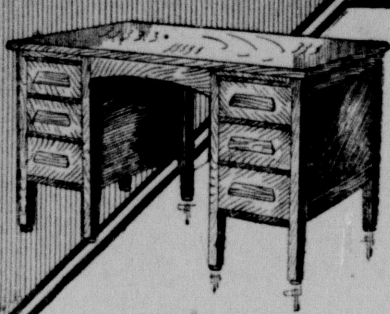

Do you intend to continue laboring, burning valuable fuel and destroying high priced food with that old worn-out cook stove? You know that old stove eats up a lot of fuel each year. You know you have trouble in getting it to bake just right, in fact, spoil a batch of bread every once in a while—you know it costs considerable for yearly repairs. Stop and think and figure. Wouldn't it pay you to buy a good range—a range with a reputation—

The Great Majestic Malleable and Charcoal Iron Range

You make no mistake in buying the GREAT MAJESTIC—it's the range with THE REPUTATION—ask your neighbors. Then, too, it's made just right and of the right kind of material—MALLEABLE AND CHARCOAL IRON—riveted together practically airtight—lined with pure asbestos board—parts being malleable can't break—has a movable reservoir and an oven that don't warp—that's why the MAJESTIC uses so little fuel, bakes just right every day in the year (browns bread just right all over without turning), heats 15 gallons of water while breakfast is cooking—properly handled lasts a lifetime, and costs practically nothing for repairs.

Don't buy the range you expect to last a lifetime "unsight unseen;" you'll be sure to be disappointed. Come to our store during demonstration week, see the GREAT MAJESTIC—have its many exclusive features explained—find out why the MAJESTIC is 300 per cent stronger than other ranges where most ranges are weakest.

Don't Overlook the Date. This is a Special Invitation to YOU and YOUR FRIENDS and NEIGHBORS.

FOOD OF EUROPEAN PEASANTS

Many Are the Substitutes for Bread Eaten by Poorer Classes of Europe.

In various parts of the world the poorer classes consume little or no bread, the London Globe observes. Baked loaves of bread are practically unknown in portions of southern Australia and Italy and throughout the agricultural districts of Roumania.

Austrians aver that in the village of Obersteiermark, not very far from Vienna, bread is never seen. The staple food is stenz, a kind of porridge made from ground beechnuts, taken at breakfast with fresh or curried milk, at dinner with broth or fried lard and at supper with milk. This dish is also called haiden and is substituted for bread not only in the Austrian district mentioned but in Carinthia and other parts of the Tyrol.

Northern Italy offers a substitute for bread in the form of polenta, which is a kind of porridge made of boiled grain. Polenta is not, however, allowed to granulate like Scotch porridge or the Austrian stenz. It is instead boiled into a solid pudding, which is cut up and portioned out with a string. It is eaten cold as often as it is hot and is in every sense an Italian's daily bread.

There is a variation of polenta called mamaliga, the favorite food of the poorer classes in Roumania. Mamaliga resembles polenta inasmuch as it is made of boiled grain, but it is unlike the former in one respect—the grains are not permitted to settle into a solid mass, but are kept distinct after the fashion of oatmeal porridge.

LEARNED CHIVALRY IN WILDS

Men of the Frontier Spontaneous in Their Tribute to Woman Met in Casual Fashion.

James Oliver Curwood, author of "The Flower of the North," tells the following story about the men to be found in the country about Hudson Bay, where the scene of his story is laid:

"I was at Prince Albert," he says, "sitting on the veranda of the little old Windsor hotel, facing the Saskatchewan. During the few days previous a number of factors, trappers and half-breed canoe men had come down from the north. One of these men had not been down to the edge of civilization for seven years. Three of the others had not been down in two, and this was the annual trip of the other eight—for there were just eighteen of us sitting there together.

"We were smoking and talking when a young woman turned up the narrow walk leading to the veranda. Immediately every voice was hushed, and as the woman came up the steps those twelve roughly clad men of the wilderness rose to their feet to a man, each holding his cap in his hand. Thus they stood, silent and with bowed heads, until the young woman had passed into the hotel. It was the most beautiful tribute to womanhood I had ever seen. And I, the man from civilization, was the only one who remained sitting, with my hat still on my head."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Dramatic Notes

FAMILY THEATRE

The management of this theatre is particularly pleased in having secured "THE HALLOWE'EN HOP" for Tonight, Tuesday and Wednesday. After you've seen it, you'll declare that it's a $2.00 musical comedy condensed to 30 minutes, for in this short space of time, you see and hear what you would witness at a Broadway production. Included in the many novelties offered in "THE HALLOWE'EN HOP" are such as THE HUMAN JACK O'LANTERNS, THE LAUGHABLE HALLOWE'EN DINNER, THE NEW STYLE HARVEST DANCE, THE RUBE QUARTETTE, THE SPECTACULAR SWINGS and the PRETTIEST GIRLS IN VAUDEVILLE.

We also offer for your kind notice, Harry I. Robinson as "Uncle Hiram" the little old hay-seed who forgets his age and cuts up like a kid and ask you to prepare to laugh your heartiest at Ray E. Kumry, the screamingly funny little village "Boob" whose capers would make Sober Sue laugh right out loud. If you don't fall off your seat laughing at the Hallowe'en Dinner scene, then there's something wrong with your system. The songs sung in "THE HALLOWE'EN HOP" are positively the catchiest you've heard in many moons and you'll find they'll cling to you long after this act has left your city.

This act was written and staged by Will J. Harris, who in collaboration with Harry I. Robinson wrote such wonderful successes as "LET'S MAKE MONEY WHILE THE MOON SHINES," "STOP THAT BEAR-CAT SADIE," "MY KILLARNEY ROSE" and "GAMES OF CHILDHOOD DAYS" (the famous "Ring Around a Rosie" song). Mr. Harris has also staged and produced several of the leading attractions now before the public so therefore when we state that he's responsible for "THE HALLOWE'EN HOP" you can rest assured that we are offering you the "CREAM" of vaudeville.

No matter how many times you've been to this theatre lately, don't miss seeing "THE HALLOWE'EN HOP," for it's in a class by itself.

LASALLE—CHICAGO.

Harry Askin has, without questioning the greatest success of his producing and managerial career in The Girl at the Gate, the current musical comedy in the LaSalle opera house, Chicago. Night after night and at the Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday matinees the theatre is packed to its capacity—which it is true is not a great capacity, as the LaSalle holds only 803 persons, but it is that very smallness of the theatre that makes it an ideal place for fun, singing, dancing and above all, the beauty of the girls who make up the LaSalle's ballet and chorus.

It was the Chicago Daily Journal a few weeks ago that referred to The Girl at the Gate as the best entertainment yet made known in the cozy-intimate home of musical comedy. Manager Askin is justly proud of the Chicago-made label on The Girl at the Gate, every feature being of Chicago origin. The play was written by Will M. Hough and Frederick Donaghey, both of Chicago; the music is the work of Ben M. Jerome another Chicagoan; an every costume all the scenery, sumptuous furnishings of the stage and all else that appertains to the making of a first musical comedy in these days of heavy expenditure was made in the city where The Girl at the Gate is having its run.

The Tuesday and Thursday matinees are popular in price, with the best main floor seats at $1 and are very popular with visitors from out of town. There is a wealth of attraction for the little folks at the matinee as always is the case in the LaSalle; and no better kiddie number than The Raggedy Doll, in the second act, has ever been staged in this home of laughter.

GRAUSTARK.

Graustark, which comes to the opera house Wednesday, October 2, is an adaptation from George Barr McCutcheon's vigorous novel of the same title. Containing every complement for a strong and intensely interesting play, every worthy incident has been thoroughly and eagerly grasped by Grace Howard, who constructed the same for stage purposes.

The theme of the play is delightful. The plot is laid in Edelweiss, Graustark, a mythical principality where two young Americans are discovered following a beautiful unknown girl who is in reality Princess Yette, the ruling sovereign. Lorry, one of the Americans, proves to be of great assistance to her, both in America, where he first meets her, and in her own country. That she would finally cast aside her royal rights if need be, to marry him is nearly a foregone conclusion.

The play is one that strikes a happy chord in almost everybody. It is one where love and honor and bravery are rampant, where the atmosphere is pregnant with heroism and where dishonor and trickery meet with defeat and disaster.

OFFICER "666."

Laugh overleaps laugh, surprise follows surprise and thrill chases thrill in the unfolding of the plot and story of "Officer '666,'" the sensational farce which Conlan & Harris will present at the Dixon opera house on Oct. 11.

"Officer '666'" tells a story of love in an atmosphere of mystery, the fun of which is supplied by an over-zealous policeman who loans his uniform to a millionaire and thereby gets himself into trouble at headquarters.

PALACE MUSIC HALL

With the advent of delightful fall winter - Neo7890$ SAOISHRDI fall weather and excellent bills of high class vaudeville, the Palace Music hall, Chicago, has started on the new season most auspiciously. This beautiful theatre, situated on Clark street, near Randolph, in the last three weeks has built up a most select clientele, that promises to keep up its attendance around the capacity mark all winter.

For the week beginning Monday, matinee, Sept. 30, the bill will be headed by Gus Edwards and his Kid Kabaret. Over 20 clever kid komicks are in the company.

Second on the bill is one of the novelties of the season, Lola, a little sixteen year old Sioux Indian Girl from the Pine Ridge Reservation, South Dakota, who is gifted with what might be termed sixth sense. It is the amazing power of second sight. A very interesting twenty minute vaudeville act is made out of Lola's remarkable demonstration.

Edward Blondell again delights with his farce comedy, "The Lost Boy," while Agnes Scott and Henry Keane have an episode entitled "Drifting." The fabric is the product of Miss Scott's own imagination and deals with the girl who meets the man of her first romance. "Drifting" is one of those clean, sweet, little things that must be seen to be appreciated, for it is a radical departure from the average vaudeville stunt.

"The Girl from Milwaukee," a remarkable vocalist; Stein, Hume & Thomas, have a new rathskeller act; Frozini, the man who first dignified the accordion in America; Thurber & Madison, comedy skit on a Shopping Tour, and De Voie Trio, athletes of exceptional dexterity and strength, complete the bill.

Matinees are given every day and smoking is permitted in the balcony. The prices range from 15 to 75 cents for either performance.

"THELMA" AT OPERA

HOUSE TONIGHT

Dixon Opera House tonight will run four reels of Motion Pictures de Luxe including the great three-reel drama "Thelma."

MAN OF SAVING DISPOSITION

Wives Will Know How to Sympathize With the Unfortunate Better Half of Mr. Graball.

Old Graball is mean—really mean. He once built a house, and nearly gave himself brain fever deciding which was better—a lot of windows—which were cheaper, but needed soap and water for cleaning—or more bricks for wall space.

One day he came home and found that his wife had saved money out of his housekeeping allowance, and was repapering the dining-room. And then he started to rave.

"I don't object to the money being spent, although new paper is just extravagance when the old one has only been on seven years," he gasped, red and hoarse with rage, "but I do object to the way you have put it on. Oh, how dare you paste it on!" he finished, with a wall.

"How else could I put it on?" asked Mrs. Graball, in surprise.

"How else?" he retorted when he could speak. "Why, tack it on, of course! You don't suppose we shall live in this house for ever, do you?"

STARS LOSE BIG GAME TO STERLING

passed ball and sacrifice. Flock started it by singling through short and Lawler Conlon kept up the work by shoving a safe one through third. Crangle sacrificed them along and Flock scored on Beien's hard rap to Monahan. While Carp was passing O'Hare, Joey Keenan let one go through him for a passed ball, or which Conlon scored, but O'Hare was caught on first, ending the session.

We Get a Couple.

That four run lead looked as big as several houses, but the Stars kept gamely after things by virtue of three, and amassed a couple in the fifth. Whitebread was safe on an error by Flock, but was forced at second when Heft poked an easy one at Lightner. Huber came across with Dixon's first hit of the game, putting a clean one over short, and Charlie Burke shoved a hot liner at Lightner which nearly put him out of commission. Buck hardly had time to get his hands in front of his face to break the force of the ball. It went through his mitts and hit him in the face, necessitating a delay in the proceedings. This blow in the puss may have unsteadied Lightner for Charlie Keenan promptly and effectively poled a two bagger into left on which Messrs. Heft and Huber scored. Hunter fled to short and Beien got under Joey Keenan's tall one.

Tied It Up in the Eighth.

The Stars kept working faithfully away, and as a result of their endeavors tied it up in the eighth after two were down. Keenan and Hunter had been retired when J. Keenan got a clean one through short, and Larkins came across with a necessary bingle on which Joe took third, Larkins going down to second with the tarow in. And then Monahan demonstrated that he had not returned from Fulton to play this game in vain, for with commendable talent he cracked out the much needed safety over second, the two aforementioned Stars crossing the pan. Whitebread skied to left.

Thus the score was tied. The ninth was uneventful, and then came the tenth, the sad and mournful numbers of which have been told. And that was the ending of the last game of the season. The bookkeeping:

Notes of the Tragedy.
Huber pulled a great one handed stop from B. McCormick's bat in the third. He went up into the ozone some to get the pill.

Huber pitched 123 balls to the plate in ten innings while Lightner went him one better, serving 124 up to the batters.

Gilbert was sent to bat for D. Conlon in the ninth, but merely struck out. The substitution made it necessary to bring Crangle in to first, Gilbert going to center.

LODGE DEATH NOT MURDER

Man Who Used Revolver During an Initiation Is Acquitted.

Anderson, S. C., Sept. 29.—Furman Bagwell was declared not guilty of murder by a jury here after his trial growing out of the killing of Milton Taylor. Bagwell shot and mortally wounded Taylor when he became confused while being initiated into the Woodmen of the World. When the degree team, of which Taylor was a member, started firing blank cartridges as a part of the initiation, Bagwell rushed from the room, got a pistol, and returning began firing promiscuously. Taylor was the only person seriously hurt. Just before he died he requested that Bagwell be not prosecuted.

BIG MOB ROUTS LAWRENCE POLICE

Leader Waves Red Flag and Tells Them to "Shoot to Kill."

POLICEMEN ARE CUT DOWN

One Officer Is Stabbed in Back, Another One Has His Head Crushed--24-Hour Strike Is On Today.

Lawrence, Mass., Sept. 30.--Closing in on a squad of policemen who, with drawn revolvers, had attempted to force them to disband, the leaders of a procession of 5,000 textile strikers stabbed one officer in the back, crushed in the head of another with a blow from a club and seriously injured several more.

Hundreds of shots were fired during the street battle and in the rioting that followed. The police were completely routed and the strikers continued their parade. The streets are crowded with strikers and more trouble is feared. The city, which is largely composed of mill workers, is practically in a state of insurrection. Workers Gather at Station.

Three thousand of the workers had gathered at the railroad station to welcome several hundred visiting sympathetic workers from nearby mill towns who had come to endorse the twenty-four-hour strike, which began today. After the arrival of the train 5,000 of the workmen and their sympathizers formed in line to march to the center of the city. At their head was Carlo Presca, a prominent member of the Industrial Workers of the World, waving a red flag. A squad of policemen was rushed out to meet the marchers, with orders to disperse them. The marchers refused to break step. The policemen drew their revolvers and charged. The crowd fell back as they saw the weapons, but gaining courage as Presca and his aides spurred them on, they closed in on the officers, many of them with drawn revolvers, and a pitched battle ensued. Policeman Thomas McCarlie and Special Officer Ludwig seized Presca. Firing their revolvers into the air, the officers were about to escape with the prisoner between them when McCarlie fell to the sidewalk with two stab wounds in the back. A moment later Ludwig collapsed from a blow on the head from a club. The assailants made their escape.

Exhorts Followers to Kill. Freed, Presca waved his red flag aloft again and exhorted his followers to shoot to kill. The strikers rushed the police, wounding many of them and then exultantly resumed their march to the headquarters of the Industrial Workers of the World.

The cause of the interference by the police with the parade was the appearance of red flags bearing an anarchistic inscription. Not an American flag was carried. One of the banners read:

"For the progress of the human race we have jails, gallows, guillotines and electric chairs for the people who pay to keep the soldiers to kill them when they revolt against Wood and other czars of capitalism. Arise, slaves of the world. No God. No master. One for all, all for one."

The Wood referred to is William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen company.

The workers began a twenty-four-hour strike today.

150 WOMEN WERE SLAIN

Bombardment of Managua Shows Barbarity.

San Juan del Sur, Nicaragua, Sept. 30.--Complete details of the bombardment of Managua by the rebels, which only now has become available for transmission to the outside world, show an assault of almost unbelievable barbarity. One hundred and fifty women and children were killed and wounded on the first day and night of the assault. General Mena was seriously ill during the week of the bombardment and seems to have been innocent and ignorant of the carnage. General Zeledon conducted the assault of his own responsibility. Zeledon knew that thousands of women and children were still within the city and when other officers demurred, coolly repeated his orders that the shelling commence.

She picked up the shining weapon and, looking into the muzzle, pulled the trigger. A bullet sped completely through her head, causing instant death.

BOY'S SACRIFICE SAVES GIRL'S LIFE

Leg Is Amputated After Skin-Grafting Operation Is Performed.

'DIDN'T NEED IT MUCH' HE SAYS

Process to Restore Skin Destroyed by Flames in Motorcycle Explosion Consumes Three Hours--Beneficiary of Heroism Will Live.

Gary, Ind., Sept. 30.--Willie Pugh, known to the residents of Gary, Ind., as "that crippled kid newsw," has parted with his withered leg that the life of Miss Ethel Smith might be saved. Miss Smith was burned in a motorcycle accident about a week ago. Before the boy's leg was amputated, 150 square inches of skin were cut from his limb, and grafted onto the burned portion of the girl's body.

He smiled as he hobbled into the General hospital, where the operation was to be performed. As he was led from the superintendent's office into the operating room, the smile grew weaker. His lips were quivering.

"It ain't that I'm scared o' bein' hurted," he said, "but this here leg an' me's been together a long time, an' an' I sorter hates ter say good-by. But"--and he suddenly straightened in his seat--"come on, doc, let's get busy."

Volunteers for Sacrifice. Willie Pugh a week ago read of an accident that had befallen Miss Ethel Smith--burned about the body when a gasoline tank on her fiancé's motorcycle, on which she was riding, exploded. Skin grafting was all that could save the girl's life.

The physicians knew that so much skin would be needed that there was little hope of obtaining enough. It was after reading about this that Willie went to the office of Dr. J. A. Craig, physician in charge of the girl, and offered to give his crippled leg for the grafting. When told that so much skin would be needed that it would necessitate amputation he hesitated a moment, and then told Doctor Craig that he was willing to give up the leg.

The boy actually has saved the girl's life. The skin was removed from his withered leg and then the limb was amputated. Not until he had been led into the room in which the girl lay had Willie ever seen Miss Smith before.

"You are saving my life," she told him. "I want to thank you."

Operation Takes Three Hours. "Shucks, it ain't nothin'," he stammered. "This old leg don't amount to much anyway. Don't you get ter feelin' bad on my account. Why, I'm jes' a news kid, an' besides I don't need this leg much."

The boy and the girl were laid on adjoining tables and the grafting operation begun. Both were placed under chloroform. When the 150 square inches of skin from the boy's leg had been transplanted to the girl, Willie was given a deeper inhalation of chloroform and his leg was amputated, just below the hip. The work occupied three hours. Both will recover, although Miss Smith will be able to leave the hospital before the boy.

Killing of Two Augusta Business Men to Be Investigated.

Augusta, Ga., Sept. 30.--Six National Guard companies are on picket duty maintaining Governor Brown's martial law proclamation, and negotiations are under way for a settlement of differences of striking car men of the Augusta-Aiken Railway and Electric corporation. City council also considered the strike situation. Captains Henderson and Jowett and 15 or more members of the National Guard connected with the killing of Alfred Dorn and Robert Christie, when they crossed a "dead line" established about the company's property, will be tried by a court martial to prevent the review of the affair by the civil courts.

Speaking of the Divorce Evil

Trying to succeed in business without advertising is like the case of the man who, trying to out-expense, divorced his wife and alone attempted to keep house and raise his children. It cost him more money for doctor bills and funeral expenses in a year than he gave his wife in a lifetime.

When advertising is divorced, business success becomes failure. This paper is building your neighbor's business. He has reasons. He tried advertising and it helped him. It is not an experiment—this paper brings results. Good, hard, convincing results—dollars.

TO AILING WOMEN

A LITTLE SOUND ADVICE WILL HELP MANY A SUFFERER IN DIXON

No woman should consider herself healthy and well if the kidneys are weak. Poisons that pass off in the secretions when the kidneys are well, are retained in the body when the kidneys are disordered. If the kidneys and bladder become inflamed and swollen worse troubles may quickly follow. This is often the cause of bearing-down pains, lameness, backache, etc. Uric poisoning is also frequent cause of headaches, dizzy spells, languor, nervousness, and rheumatic pains.

When suffering so, try Doan's Kidney Pills, remedy that has proven effective in thousands of such cases. Let a Dixon woman tell of her experience.

Mrs. F. E. Self, 1009 Highland Ave., Dixon, Ill., says: "The use of Doan's Kidney Pills has been very beneficial to me. I am glad to recommend this remedy for kidney trouble and backache."

The above statement must carry conviction to the mind of every reader. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask DISTINCTLY for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same backed by home testimony. 50c, all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

MAYASKINTERVENTION

Senator's Report to Urge Course On Mexican War.

Finish Investigation in Southwest and Begin Trip to Washington—Used American Funds.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 30.—The United States senate subcommittee appointed to investigate relations with Mexico has completed its work in this city.

The report of the subcommittee, it is believed, will hold that the evidence adduced points to the necessity for the United States to intervene in Mexico in order that Americans and American interests receive proper protection.

The investigators questioned 500 persons. Speaking of the testimony Senator Smith of Michigan who with Senator Fall of New Mexico made the investigation, said:

"The testimony of every Mexican whom we interrogated agreed upon this one point:

"That if arms, ammunition and supplies needed in warfare were permitted to enter the country during the Orozco rebellion the same as they were during the Madero revolution, Orozco would have been in Mexico City long ago."

It is said the evidence proves conclusively that no American money was used in financing the Orozco rebellion, but tends to establish the claim that American funds were used to finance the Madero revolution.
